Management Liability Insurance

Management Liability Insurance is designed to protect the Directors and Officers of private companies, Limited Liability Partnerships and Not-for-Profit organisations.

The insurance is designed to protect company directors and board members against the legal costs of an alleged or actual negligence, error or corporate malpractice.

Directors and Officers may be exposed to claims brought against them by shareholders; investors; employees (claiming for wrongful dismissal, harassment or failure to promote); auditors; regulatory bodies and legislation (for example the FCA involving alleged breaches of Directors' fiduciary duties); the Government; banks; customers or creditors.

Management Liability Insurance will provide indemnity cover in relation to the following claims - legal costs and expenses in the defence and investigation of a claim, representation costs where a Director is legally required to attend an enquiry or investigation and compensation required to be paid by the insured in order to dispose of a Directors and officers claim.

The policy will also cover for actions taken against the company, including losses sustained, from employment liability claims, representation costs in respect of an occupational health and safety investigation or direct financial loss.

If you are a member of the Board of Directors of a proprietary company you should certainly consider Management Liability Insurance.
